All of us at NETSCOUT are closely following the tragic events unfolding in Europe after the Russian invasion of Ukraine. Like everyone else around the world, we are shocked at the horror of the needless loss of life.

In accordance with U.S. and U.K. sanctions, NETSCOUT stopped all sales, support, and services to Russian companies.

At all times one of our principal responsibilities as a company has been to support our customers across the globe, including those in Ukraine, defending their networks with cybersecurity/DDoS detection and mitigation. We continue to do so.

We and our employees understand that there are thousands of Ukrainians who have lost everything – from missing loved ones to the ruin of their beloved country. Many have no choice but to flee and try to avoid areas of conflict. Those affected by war will need our help. To that end, NETSCOUT has also made a corporate donation to Save the Children, an organization providing direct emergency aid to Ukraine and is matching employee donations to the relief organization. Our thoughts are with the people in Ukraine and those people displaced by the conflict.
